

i have become an avid xm listner for 2 years now & i refuse to listen to fm/am radio!! i would rather pay $10...even $30 a month not to be bombarded with worthless commercials & weak info (traffic)also the reception is limited & if you need traffic info..you sometimes have to wait almost an hour for you area to come up because they have 2 quicky shove in the info in a 2 minute spot when it is over you have to wait 8~10 minutes (depends on the channel) for the next area of coverage that is not fair!!! with xm... you get alll of your area done in about a 10 minute span then you get the weather & then they update it!! fm/am will never do that!! people pay for cable so the can have more info & more choice & channels well.....i am doing the same with xm radio & so my final words to you are as sung to a pink floyd song (another brick in the wall pt2) HEY FCC!! LEAVE XM ALONE!!
